

This is an Easy Read guide to

Research Autism

RESEARCH AUTISM

Research Autism is a UK charity.

We want people with autism and their families to enjoy life.

People with autism find it hard to make sense of the world and other people.

Life can go very wrong without the right help.

What we do

We give people information.

- We give independent, clear information.
- We give information that people can trust
- We give information about what works for people with autism.
- People can use our information to choose what treatments they want to try

We fund research. We do our own research.

- The research is about what helps people with autism to enjoy life.
- The research finds out information that can make lives better.
- We tell everyone about good research.

We believe our work makes a real difference to people's lives.

Why research is important

We need more research about autism.

- We know that people need the right help
- We do not know much about what works
- We need to know what works safely
- We need to know how to help people enjoy life

Why information is important

A lot of people sell special treatments for autism

- Some treatments can help you
- Some treatments cost a lot of money
- Some treatments do not work
- Some treatments can hurt you

It is hard to know who to trust.

But you can trust us because

- We do not sell treatments. We are independent
- Our information comes from proper research
- We listen to people with autism. We listen to scientific experts

Donate and help us

You can support our work by donating to us

You can find out how to donate on our website
www.researchautism.net

You can also find about about our fundraising events

Text a donation to us. The number is 70070. Your text must say RESA01 and how much you want to give us. £10 is the most you can give us by text.

Contact us

Research Autism, Adam House,
1 Fitzroy Square, London,
W1T 5HE

020 3490 3091

info@researchautism.net

www.researchautism.net

Find us: facebook.com/ResearchAutism

Tweet us: @ResearchAutism